quit Court in Pulaski County, granting Lorena Parris a $2,450 judgment.

Mrs. Parris, in a letter to Arthur Murray, Inc., sought the return of more than $4,000. She said she paid $7,745 on a contract with the studio in Little Rock, some as an advance payment on future lessons. She asked the main company for $10 an hour for 45½ unused hours of instruction.

Attorneys for Murray gave her $2,000 of Samuel Osborne's money, which was held in escrow. Osborne had a contract to operate the Murray studio in Little Rock. Mrs. Parris' judgment came as the difference in the $2,000 she received and the amount that was unpaid on her reimbursement request.

The Supreme Court affirmed Circuit Court in Sebastian County in its conviction and sentencing of Donald Wayne Ward, who got three years for burglary and two years for larceny.

Ward appealed the lower court decision on grounds that keys taken from him after his arrest should not have been introduced as evidence against him.

Associate Justice Conley Byrd dissented.

The high court also affirmed a Circuit Court ruling in Sebastian County in a dispute over ownership of some land in Oklahoma. The lower court had ruled that Roy G. Wood and his wife were entitled to land after an agreement to sell to Carl W. Widmer was never fully executed.

$30,000 Is Taken in Pea Ridge Burglary

PEA RIDGE, Ark. (AP) — Burglars broke into the vault of the Bank of Pea Ridge over the weekend and escaped with an estimated $30,000.

Sam Walton, chairman of the board of the bank, made the estimate of the loss.

Sheriff Lee Owen of Benton County said the burglars broke into the bank through the front door and used some kind of cutting torch to get into the vault.

The burglary was reported to Owen at 6 a.m. today. Pea Ridge is a town of about 1,000 about 10 miles northeast of Bentonville.

Board Overturns, Man Drowned

STRONG, Ark. (AP) — J. C. Lee, 28, of El Dorado, drowned Saturday when a boat overturned on Shallow Lake near Strong (Union County).

The Union County sheriff's office said Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moore of Strong were crossing the lake when waves from another boat swamped theirs, causing it to overturn. Moore told authorities that he and his wife clung to the side of the boat, but that Lee attempted to swim to a tree and couldn't make it.

The Strong Civil Defense Unit recovered Lee's body about three hours later in some seven feet of water.

Feminine Margin of Survival Over Men Is Now Seven Years

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One of the things that science hasn't been able to figure out is why this century has been most favorable to the longevity of women. As recently as 1920, statistics indicated women outlived men by only a year. Now the feminine margin of survival is seven years: women 73.5 years, men 66.5.

If you're superstitious, one of the ways you can assure the happiness of your household is to put a tomato on the windowsill. Of course, it doesn't hurt if you also can afford to have meat in the icebox, a color television set in the living room, credit at the drugstore and cash in the bank.

Bears, like people, suffer from insomnia. For example, grizzly bears have been seen shuffling through the forests in the middle of winter, when they are traditionally supposed to be paused in hibernating sleep.

The human brain is said to contain 100 billion nerve cells. Now and then, don't you feel—particularly on Mondays—that one of them is missing? It is hard for a fellow to feel at his peak with only 99,999,999,999 brain cells. It is that absent spark that makes all the difference in ignition.

When you drop a glass and it breaks, the cracks in it move at a speed of nearly a mile a second—more than 3,000 miles an hour. The wisecracks follow as an accompanying speed.

Quotable notables: "Love is the delightful interval between meeting a beautiful girl and discovering that she looks like a haddock." — John Barrymore.

If you want to contact Scotland Yard in a hurry and the international phones are tied up, simply send a cable addressed to "Handcuffs, London," and it will probably be delivered there. But don't send it collect.

Wonders of science: An extract of potatoes, researchers at the University of Michigan have found, is capable of both stimulating and inhibiting the cell growth in other plants and microscopic animals. This confirms what was found out in Ireland long ago. A presence of potatoes on the plate stimulates the cell growth of the Irish, and an absence of potatoes from the plate inhibits the cell growth of the Irish.

Few human beings are entirely satisfied with the shape they're in, but those most discontented with their silhouettes are adolescent girls. Only 16 per cent are found to be clinically obese, but 60 per cent don't like the way they weigh.

Worth remembering: "Chivalry is the attitude of a man to ward a strange woman."

History lesson: Can you name the U.S. vice president who made the most unforgettable utterance in that office of ordinary sequestration from fame? He was Thomas Riley Marshall, a native of Indiana who served through both terms of Woodrow Wilson's administration and who said: "What this country really needs is a good five-cent cigar." He lived to be 71 years and 79 days old, and his immortal political statement has never been proved to be wrong to this day.

It was Thomas Robert Dewar, one of Britain's wildest distillers, who observed, "Minds are like parachutes; they only function when open."

Council for Probationers Is Ruled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Probationers facing jail terms have the right to a lawyer's help and if they can't afford a lawyer the state must supply one, the Supreme Court ruled today.

With a unanimous decision, the Court applied the Sixth Amendment right to counsel to state probation revocation hearings.

In earlier years the court had applied the right to most stages of the criminal process, including police station questioning and trials themselves.

The ruling was given by Justice Thurgood Marshall, his first written opinion since joining the court.

In it Marshall traced significant high court decisions involving the right to counsel since 1948. He explained why the court was now going one step further, using the Washington state probation revocation procedure as its springboard.

Obviously, he said, a lawyer's help is necessary to marshal facts, introduce evidence and, in general help the defendant to present the case.

However, he said even more important is the fact that certain legal rights may be lost if they are not exercised at these hearings.

For instance, he said, under Washington law an appeal can be made in a case involving a plea of guilty followed by probation only after sentence is imposed.

Therefore, he said, if a lawyer is not present when probation is revoked, the right to appeal might well be lost.

He applied similar reasoning to the possibility of losing the right to withdraw a guilty plea if a lawyer is not on hand and concluded: "We do not question the authority of the state of Washington to provide for a deferred sentencing procedure coupled with its probation provisions. Indeed, it appears to be an enlightened step forward."

Democratic Rally Plans Completed

Plans have been completed for the 7-County Democrat Rally to be held Tuesday, November 14 in the Fair Park Coliseum, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Nathan Gordon, former Lieutenant Governor of Arkansas, will be the guest speaker.

sounds so delightful, in fact, that it arouses suspicions, after what happened to "My Fair Lady," the musical adaptation of Shaw's "Pygmalion," on the stage and motion pictures, how come television is getting first crack at a similar project?

Mark Merson, an independent packager and producer, said that it just happened to work out that way. He was looking, he said, for a classic to adapt for TV, and remembered the Shaw play which he saw when he was nine and in which Eva Le Gallienne and Ernest Truex starred.

He sought permission to use the play, written in 1913, from the late playwright's representatives, the Society of Authors, in England.

"They turned out to be a marvelous bunch of old ladies working in a headquarters on the outskirts of London, and they act like watchdogs on Shaw's work," Merson said. "They liked the idea and sent me on to negotiate a deal with Shaw's executors. And they work with a literary critic—identity unknown—and part of the deal is script approval."

Merson then approached Richard Rodgers. The composer "read the play one night and the next day said he wanted to do it." At this point Merson took his idea to NBC and the network snapped it up.

The show was taped last August, 18 months almost to a day from the time Merson started to work on it. The production cost close to $500,000 and stars Norman Wisdom, Ed Ames, Noel Coward and Inga Swenson. NBC underwrote the production and has rerun rights, but Merson and Rodgers share rights to use the property in other theatrical areas.

Bob Hope and company had a bad night Wednesday with a ragged script which contained scarcely a chuckle. There was a roster of top-drawer comedians, from Rowan and Martin to Danny Thomas who were all but tripping over each other and the stage was also filled with horses and even a camel. Hope's monologue at the opening was below his normal standard.

Hope Season Snags in Dist. Play

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

There exist many philosophical views about the football season just completed at Hope High School, and people can easily reflect on the bigger turning points of the year.

For the Bobcats, it was a season which followed a pattern very similar to the last two years. All three campaigns started with the Cats taking two or three games in their early starts before hitting the 4-AA conference road.

1967 was no different, as the Bobcats carried a 2-1 record into the Smackover game, which actually marked the beginning of the end. Losses to Smackover, Malvern, and Crossett once again left the Bobcats out of the 4-AA race in midseason. From there on in no victories could be pulled out, bringing the final mark to 2-8-1.

These words might sound a little stiff, but the reporter's job is to give the facts. From the final preseason workouts on into the year, the team morale was not what could be expected of winners. This is not to say that there was dissension on the team, because there surely was none. To be sure, the Bobcats lost the quitters before the Smackover game. After that point it was a closely knit bunch.

As a team, the Bobcats gave their all together during the final few weeks, but that spark which is shown by a jelled team and was expected all the way never came in '67. True, there were times when the Cats looked like worldbeaters, only to fall to the bad breaks which can too often ruin a good team.

The Bobcats had plenty of size, experience, and desire, but things could never all fall together into the right places. And let me stop right here and say that the coaching staff did everything in their power to improve the team throughout. Coaches Freddie Glaze, Ronnie Higgins, Bill Lawrence, Gaylord Solomon, Joe Auting, and Ed White tried their best, but the "ifs" reigned this time.

Another thing, the players did all they could, and many underclassmen showed potential that will be needed in the years to come. And once again, this writer pauses for about ten second, and ushers in the coming of basketball to the sports scene.

Perry threw in 17 points in the third quarter, leading the Muskies to a 108-104 victory, their seventh in their last eight American Basketball Association outings.

Porkers Happy With Win

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles admitted Sunday he was leery of how the Razorbacks' defense would do against Rice Saturday.

"We didn't know what to expect," Broyles said on his television show. "After what happened to them in the Texas A&M game in the fourth quarter... we just didn't know how they would react."

A&M scored 19 points in the fourth period to beat Arkansas 33-21.

The Arkansas defense gave the offense time to get untracked by stopping the Owls at the Arkansas 21, 33 and 8 in the first period.

"They had their backs to the wall two or three times," said Broyles. "The big plays were on defense, the punt returns and interceptions."

Gary Adams returned a punt 35 yards to set up Arkansas' first touchdown and then took one back 52 yards to set up the final touchdown in the Razorbacks' 23-9 victory over the Owls.

Tommy Trantham's brilliant interception and 53-yard runback put the Porkers in position for their second touchdown.

David Dickey, the Southwest Conference's leading scorer, scored twice from in close to push his season total to 11 and quarterback Ronny South hooked up with split end Max Peacock for 35 yards and the other Porker touchdown.

At first glance, the Owls seem to have come out on top statistically. But, a closer look reveals some interesting items.

Rice had a 59-yard advantage in total offense, 312-253, but the Razorbacks returned five punts for 106 yards and carried back three interceptions for an additional 71 yards. Rice returned four punts for 36 yards and did not intercept a pass.

Add the return yardage and Arkansas is almost 100 yards better off than Rice.

In addition, the Owls picked up almost 100 yards against the Arkansas reserves who were playing with a 2-3-3 lead.

Arkansas has specialized in punt returns during the past several years "but" has had limited success this year.

"The punt return is one of the most beautiful plays in football," said Broyles. "But it's difficult to get the timing down."

Arkansas has adapted its offense somewhat to South's passing ability and the senior has responded during the past three weeks.

He hit 9 of 13 for 141 yards against Rice and has connected on 42 of his last 57.

"Ronny has a great knack of anticipating who is going to be open," said Broyles.

Broyles said the "bomb" South threw to Peacock was something the quarterback and his receiver had worked out.

Palmer Is Off to New Conquests

By PAUL H. FINCH
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the easy-going golf master from Latrobe, Pa., was off to new conquests today after capturing his first World Cup individual prize in six tries as co-winner of the American team.

Jack Nicklaus, 27-year-old teammate from Columbus, Ohio, came in second as individual winner plus coholder of the team trophy by the United States for the sixth time.

"I owe my partner a great deal for getting those clubs right," said Palmer.

"I came here to help win the team championship," added Nicklaus. "If I couldn't win the individual prize I'm glad Arnold did."

The two U.S. stars, who outstripped a field of 80 golfers from 40 nations, territories and regions, fired a combined 567 for the two rounds, 13 strokes below their nearest competitors, southpaw Bob Charles and Walter Hagen of New Zealand.

Palmer, who nursed an eye scratched by sand from a trap shot for the last two days, fired a five-under-par 67 in the final round for a total of 276.

Nicklaus and Charles tied for second place, five strokes behind Palmer.

Individual and national prestige was the real stake in the World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup.

Palmer got only $1,000 for the best individual score and shared $2,000 with Nicklaus for the team victory. Nicklaus and Charles split $700 for second place while Tony Cortis of Argentina won $400 for his 284 and third place, and Ted Makkela of Hawaii, fourth with 285, got $200.

Palmer then rushed out of the press room at the Club de Golf Mexico to fly in his own jet to Puerto Rico for a new tournament, the C.B. World of Golf.

"I was so engrossed in the game that I didn't know we were scoring that much," he said. "I suddenly looked up on the scoreboard and saw it was 84-0."

Woodward said he used 48 of his 54 clubs. "I picked the 14 players in the final 49th, 50th and 51st holes. I was a flop at a 2-10 hole, but I recovered myself, winning only one of 10 holes in a 3-hole playoff."

Woodward played 14 holes in the final round, including the 49th, 50th and 51st holes. He finished with a 3-10 hole, but he recovered himself, winning only one of 10 holes in a 3-hole playoff.

Jockey Saw Something in Fort Marcy

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Jockey Manuel Yeaza apparently saw something in Fort Marcy that even escaped trainer Elliott Burch.

While Burch downgraded Fort Marcy's chances against Damascus in the $150,000 Washington, D.C., International, Yeaza retained confidence in the 3-year-old gelding.

When the 1 1/2-mile turf race was over at Laurel race course Saturday, Fort Marcy had scored the biggest victory of his flit-flop career and earned $90,000 for owner Paul Mellon's Jockey Stable.

Yeaza, the Panamanian who reigns as the world's most suspended jockey, wound up as the only three-time winner of the International. What's more, he's never lost—having previously won in 1959 and 1960 aboard Bald Eagle.

Damascus, who had won 12 of 15 previous starts in 1967 on the way to certain horse of the year honors, failed by a nose in his first grass race but only after a stringing stretch duel which outdistanced seven foreign horses.

Tobin Bronze, the Australian representative who will now race in California under the silks of new American owners, finished 2 1/2 lengths behind in third place. Canada's He's A Smoothie, the early leader of a slow pace, wound up fourth.

The rest of the field, in order, included Speed Symbol of Japan, Casque Grise of France, Ribocco of England, Venezuela's Chatouland and another English entry, In Command.

"Manuel begged me into letting him ride the horse when I really didn't think we had a shot at beating Damascus," Burch said. "He had more confidence than I did. I thought Damascus was unbeatable."

"I kept putting him off, since I had some other commitments, but now you can't imagine how I felt. I didn't know what I was doing. I picked the 14 players in the final 49th, 50th and 51st holes. I was a flop at a 2-10 hole, but I recovered myself, winning only one of 10 holes in a 3-hole playoff."

Woodward played 14 holes in the final round, including the 49th, 50th and 51st holes. He finished with a 3-10 hole, but he recovered himself, winning only one of 10 holes in a 3-hole playoff.

Girl Cagers Start New Season

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

No rest appears to be in sight for the sports fan, but his new entertainment surely will prove to be very wholesome, in the fine team sport of basketball.

The first IHS roundball teams to hit the circuit for 1967-68 are the two girls teams, and both can be expected to have better than average years. Once again the ladies will be coached by Mrs. Charlotte Gibson, in her third year at Hope.

Those Lady Cats, once laughed at (many years ago), but now respected, can be a clear shot to rest on the pinnacle of power in the entire state, but Mrs. Gibson has scheduled some teams that make Notre Dame's schedule look like a shriveled-up strawberry.

The teams, notably, are Ashdown, Bradley, and Nashville. Bradley, the opening opponent for the first two games, is easing along with a winning streak of about 70 games that has made a name for senior girls basketball in this part of the state. What a privilege it would be for the Lady Cats to stop that long streak.

The Lady Cats open this Thursday night at Jones Field House against that Bradley team, preceded by the junior girls game. For reference, slip this schedule and save it, and remember to support Hope High basketball.

Chargers and Chiefs Roll to Victories

The Oakland Raiders have found out that idleness won't win them any American Football League titles, not with the San Diego Chargers and Kansas City Chiefs charged at work.

Playing the role of the idle rich Sunday only made the Raiders poorer as the Chargers and Chiefs rolled to victory and narrowed the gap that separates them from leading Oakland in the Western Division.

The Chargers, 6-1-1, stomped Miami 24-0 and the Chiefs, 6-3, hammered Boston 33-10 while the Raiders relished with an open date and a 7-1 mark.

The New York Jets had to work hard to retain their one-game lead over Houston in the Eastern Division with a 20-10 victory over Buffalo while the Oilers struggled by lowly Denver 20-18 in the other AFL games.

In the National League, Green Bay walloped Cleveland 55-7, Baltimore ran over Atlanta 49-7, Dallas scored over New Orleans 27-19, Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 33-17, Washington outscored San Francisco 31-28, Chicago routed the New York Giants 34-7, and Detroit and Minnesota tied 10-10 as did St. Louis and Pittsburgh 14-14.

San Diego, off last week, also suffered the effects of illness against the Dolphins as the high-powered Chargers managed only a 7-0 lead into the fourth quarter before blowing open the game.

"Two weeks layoff was too much," said Charger Coach Sid Gillman. "I think we will be a better football team from here on out."

"We were sluggish and our timing was off," agreed quarterback John Hall, who pitched for two touchdowns, but had four other passes intercepted. "We might have been looking ahead to Kansas City. I'm just glad we didn't play the Chiefs today."

The Chargers and Chiefs rolled Sunday while Oakland, if it can avoid rustiness, hosts weak Miami and can pick up ground on at least one challenging victory.

Green Bay Stuns Browns by Big Score

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Green Bay rookie Travis Williams couldn't believe it. Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier didn't want to. And, as usual, Packer Coach Vince Lombardi had the last word.

"That's been our history. The Packers always rise to the occasion," said Lombardi after the Packers, led by Williams' record-tying heroics, stunned Cleveland 55-7 Sunday.

"When we've had an injury," Lombardi added, "we always play a little better."

The Packers had the injuries—starting running backs Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts are out—and they certainly played well, running up a 35-7 first-period margin and romping in from there.

The victory, spiced by Williams' record-matching two kickoff returns for touchdowns, kept the defending champion Packers atop the National Football League's Central Division. Baltimore remained unbeaten and on top of the Coastal Division with a 49-7 romp over Atlanta, with Johnny Unitas providing a spectacular passing game and the Colts showing no letdown after the previous week's important victory over Green Bay.

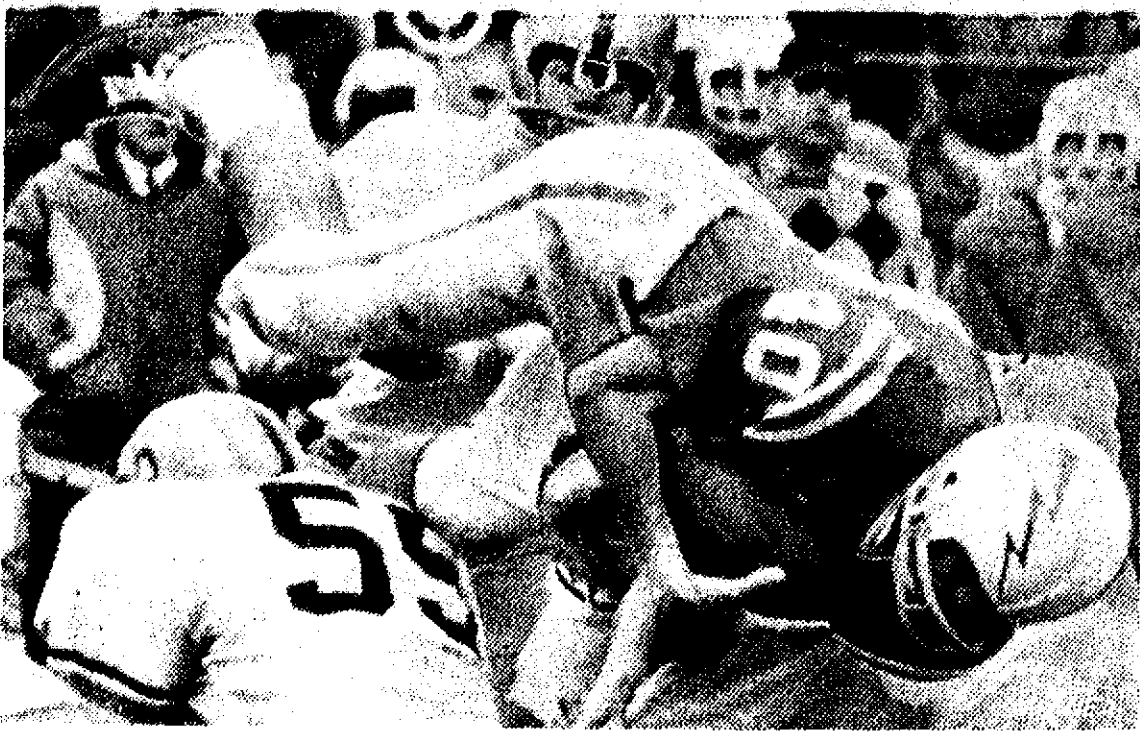

Dallas moved three games in front in the Capitol Division standings after a 27-10 decision over New Orleans, while St. Louis maintained a precarious lead with a 14-14 tie with Pittsburgh.

Chicago humbled New York 34-7, Minnesota and Detroit battled to a 10-10 tie, Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 33-17 and Washington clipped San Francisco 31-28 in the other NFL games.

In the AFL, New York whipped Buffalo 20-10, Houston held off Denver 20-18, Kansas City romped over Boston 33-10 and San Diego shutout Miami 24-0.

"I couldn't believe it was happening," Williams said after returning kickoffs for touchdowns on runs of 87 and 85 yards for the Packers. His feat matched the league record of two kickoff returns for touchdowns set last year by Philadelphia's Timmy Brown.

And the 35 points run up by the Packers in the first period

EVERYONE KNOWS the goal of each Air Force Academy student is to fly and the Falcons' Mike Guth couldn't pass up this opportunity to soar over a bevy of tacklers intent on clipping his wings.

set a league record. Donny Anderson and Ben Wilson filled in admirably for the ailing Pitts and Grabowski, Anderson scoring four touchdowns and Wilson rushing for 100 yards.

"The story of the game," Lombardi insisted, however, "was Bart Starr." Starr completed 14 of 21 passes for 249 yards and two touchdowns. "I still don't know what happened," said the dazed Collier. "I think we wanted to win so badly we were too tight and couldn't play our game."

The Lakers Just Barely Beat Bulls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Chicago Bulls got within two seconds of their second National Basketball Association victory Sunday night, but then salvation, in the unlikely form of Reggie Harding, came to the Los Angeles Lakers.

The last seconds of the Lakers' National Basketball Association 97-96 victory over the Bulls went something like this: Mel Counts hit a jump shot with 13 seconds left, drawing Los Angeles within three points. Gail Goodrich hit a layup, making the margin a point. Clem Haskins of the Bulls was fouled, but missed three straight shots.

Still the Bulls seemed in control. But Los Angeles Archie Clark threw wildly, Harding pushed Counts and with two seconds left, Mel sunk a pair from

National League to Air Expansion

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League, fearful of being shutout in the rich Northwest territory, will hold a special expansion meeting today.

President Warren Giles of the National League called the meeting shortly after the American League shifted the Kansas City A's to Oakland beginning next season and voted to expand to 12 teams by 1969, if possible. The American League awarded franchises to Seattle and to a new group in Kansas City.

Giles, in announcing the special meeting earlier this month, said representatives of cities seeking franchises will not be invited to attend.

"While the National League has applications from several cities for membership, this will not be an appropriate meeting to hear representatives of those cities and none will be invited to the foul line and won the game.

In the only other NBA game Sunday night, St. Louis beat San Diego 116-105.

In the American Basketball Association, Minnesota beat Oakland 108-104, Denver took Indiana 110-103 and Pittsburgh stopped New Jersey 100-96.

St. Louis made its record 16-1 at the expense of San Diego as the Hawks were never seriously threatened. Bill Bridges of St. Louis led the scorers with 29 points while Don Kojis had 24 for the Rockets.

Australian Girl at End of Rainbow

WACO, Tex. (AP)— Margie Masters, the golfing gal from Australia, came to the end of the rainbow Sunday, winning her first tournament in almost three full years on the American tour. She chose the next to last of the year—the $11,500 Quality Classic—to take first money of $1,725 and climb to 11th in the standings.

Miss Masters, whose two under-par 214 for 54 holes ran her earnings up to $10,925. She will lead the tour to Pensacola, Fla., today where the women of golf close the year's business.

Miss Masters had 70-71-73 over the par 72 Lake Waco course and she pulled a fine shot out of the bag to win it on the final hole. She had missed the green and faced a 40-foot chip shot to get in position to bag at least a par. She ran within a foot of the hole, sank the putt and gained her first big payday.

Kathy Whitworth, Mickey Wright and Carol Mann tied for second at 215, each missing a birdie putt on the final green that would have given them a deadlock with Miss Masters

Donohue Is Winner of Grand Prix

By ROBERT M. SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)— Another good tail wind, and Mark Donohue wouldn't have looked so glum as he sipped a can of beer Sunday afternoon.

Donohue had a victory in the Stardust Grand Prix in his hip pocket until a funny thing happened on the way to the finish line. He ran out of gas.

Donohue, 30, this year's U.S. road racing champion, coasted across the finish line just 12 seconds behind the winner, John Surtees of Limerick, England. Surtees in his Lola T70 Chevrolet passed Donohue less than a mile from the finish line.

The little bit of gasoline it would have taken to power his own Lola Chevrolet down the final stretch cost Donohue $3,700 — the difference between the first and second place money. Surtees, who won the 70-lap, 210-mile Stardust race last year, collected $5,000 of the purse. Donohue got $5,300.

Bruce McLaren, a native of New Zealand who now lives in London, dropped out of the Stardust after six laps and collected only $100. But he didn't even need to start his McLaren M8K 6A Chevrolet to win the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series.

By placing second in two of the six races, and winning two others, McLaren rolled up 30 points. His lead held, and he collected the $31,500 top prize, plus the glittering trophy.

TCU Is Key to Cotton Bowl Bid

For the first time in a quarter of a century, the Texas-Texas A&M game—oldest rivalry in the Southwest—may be the deciding issue in a hectic and up-setting football race.

Texas and A&M each must beat old and bitter foes this week to make such a climax possible but they will be favored to do so.

If Texas ticks Texas Christian at Austin and Texas A&M whips Rice at Houston Saturday, then the chips all will be on the line at College Station Thanksgiving Day and the Southwest Conference champion will emerge to become the host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas Christian has become the key that unlocks the door to such a showdown.

As the U.S. population climbs to the 200-million mark and beyond, the population in the big city agglomerations is keeping pace. Most of the metropolitan growth is in the suburbs, however. Population of the central cities shows little change.

THE WELL CHILD®

Strong Family Ties
Produce Good Children

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

The time has come, according to Dr. R. S. Mendelsohn of Chicago, to blow the whistle on all the learned theories about how often to feed your baby, whether to walk the floor with him when he cries and whether to give him a teething ring. Child rearing by the various theories accepted as gospel in the last two or three decades have not resulted in better children.
What they have done has been to make parents feel guilty when they have deviated from the prescribed formulations and confused when confronted with conflicting theories propounded by the experts.

In the final analysis, good families, those with strong family ties, produce good children. Broken families and those with weak ties produce the greatest number of emotionally disturbed children and juvenile delinquents. The problem, then, is how to provide the growing number of unloved and consequently unloving children with a good family background.

Although this problem is a long way from being solved, some promising beginnings are being made. Some communities are permitting adoptions into low-income families that show a real love for children. The adoptive parents are given a small subsidy and the program has been found to be less costly and more satisfactory than placing children in foster homes. The benefits to the community are much greater.

Another plan that does not take the child completely out of his natural home is known as the Foster Grandparent Program. It too has given excellent results in properly selected cases. Elderly volunteers who must have children to care for are paid an hourly rate to provide a home environment for a disturbed child for four or five hours a day, five or six days a week. For more information on this program, you may write to Foster Grandparent Program,

Administration on Aging,
Washington, D. C. 20201.

Q—My grandson, 2, will not stand alone. Is it better to walk him holding onto his hand or not help him and hope that he will learn to walk by himself?

A—Different children walk without holding on to something at various ages. It is best to encourage them by holding onto them as long as they seem to need such support. Your grandson will walk by himself when he is ready and that is soon enough.

EARL CHRISTIAN

A sanitary engineer from Texarkana, Earl Christian, was the guest speaker at the Hope Rotary Club last Friday when the program topic was the Sewer Department of Hope. After an introduction by Ed Aslin, the speaker explained the cycle of water and discussed sewage disposal and our two treatment plants in Hope.

He told what Hope had done on the subject of sanitation in the mid-1950's and the early

70,000 in State Schools by 1980

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas will have some 70,000 students in state supported schools by 1980, and "about half of these will be enrolled at either the University of Arkansas or Little Rock University," according to a UA official.

That means a merger of the two schools is an "immediate necessity" if the state plans to control development of its program of higher education, Carl Whillock told a civic club here Friday.

Whillock, assistant to Dr. David Mullins, the UA president, 1960's. "More than 20 miles of pipe have been laid in the Hope sewer system in the last 10 years," he said. He concluded by showing some colored slides of the local treatment plant on the west side of town.

Thurman Riddling of the local sanitation department and Ray A. Bautts of Little Rock were guests at the club meeting, which was presided over by Clyde Fouse, club president.

said the UA would assume full control of the LRU campus, including 83 acres of land and 10 buildings worth a total of about $9 million. No part of the Fayetteville campus would be moved to Little Rock, he said.

Whillock said the merger would include four of the six Little Rock branches of the UA, but that the school's medical center and its agricultural facilities in Little Rock would remain separate.

He estimated the cost of the merger at between $2 million and $2.5 million.

"Since we don't expect to get this money from the state, we plan to keep fees at LRU as they are now ($850 a year) for the first year of the merger, and then lower the fee $200 per year for the next two years," Whillock said.

Faubus Rips Into U.S. High Court

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court has "understanding and sympathy for Communists, atheists and criminals, but very little for honest, hardworking Americans," former Gov. Orval Faubus declared here Saturday night.

The court's decision too often favors the criminal, he told a quarterly meeting of the state Jaycees, and "something has got to be done about it."

Faubus said the federal government was going to have to let local and state leaders make more of the decisions that affect state and local people.

"Too often those in control of federal government have attempted to make the world over in the bogus liberal image," he said.

The former governor also said that "old maids in the Welfare Department have got to quit telling parents how to raise their children," and that "unbelievers and doubters have got to be stopped from writing literature for churches."

His only reference to issues on the state level concerned the financial crisis in the state Welfare Department.

"It is reported that there's not enough money to pay the welfare grants," he said. "I do hope it doesn't become necessary to sell the farm on Petit Jean and my house to pay for them."

Earlier in the day, Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell told the Jaycees he was convinced that Arkansas should lower its legal voting age from 21 to 18.

"I am convinced that our young people can cast an intelligent ballot, and that is the only criterion that should be used in deciding who should vote," he said.

Purcell, a Democrat, and Lt. Gov. Maurice Britt, a republican, are co-chairmen of a drive to obtain signatures needed to get an initiated act on next year's General Election ballot to lower the voting age.

Pastor Asks President His Policy

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — When the Rev. Cotesworth Pinckney Lewis was asked if it took forethought and fortitude to urge President Johnson to give a "logical, straightforward explanation of U.S. policy in Vietnam," Dr. Lewis replied: "Of course it did. One isn't privileged to tell the President of the United States what he thinks very often."

Dr. Lewis, a self-styled "conservative Southerner," said in an interview late Sunday night, "I offered a sermon this morning as is my custom. My remarks were addressed to the congregation, of which the President happened to be one. I don't want to make a grandstand play out of this."

The graying minister who is in his fifties was born in Birmingham, Ala., one of nine children in a family that traces its ancestry back to Charles Cotesworth Pinckney of South Carolina, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Antipoverty Program Supporters to Fight for Full $2 Billion

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House supporters of the administration's antipoverty program plan to fight for the full $2.06 billion requested instead of seeking a compromise to head off a deep cut proposed by Republicans.

A GOP amendment to slash the program by $660 million is slated for action today as the House resumes consideration of the controversial legislation.

A plan by some Democrats who back the bill to agree to a lesser cut in hopes of defeating the Republican move was abandoned after a series of weekend strategy huddles and after President Johnson's fighting denunciation of "standpatters and nay-sayers."

In a New York speech Thursday night, Johnson blasted the "old coalition" he said has always opposed reform and is now using the Vietnam war as an excuse to oppose his domestic program.

The decision to stand by the administration request was taken even though the Republican bid to cut the total spending to $1.4 billion is likely to succeed. The economy-minded House has already indicated in an earlier vote it thinks the Office of Economic Opportunity can get along with as little as $1.2 billion.

The reason House Democrats can view such a potential defeat calmly is that the Senate has already passed a bill authorizing $2.2 billion and an eventual compromise bill could go as high as $1.8 billion no matter what the House decides.

The money amendment is only the opening of the Republican fight to rewrite the antipoverty bill. The GOP has several dozen other proposals ready to go and final action on the bill is not expected until midweek.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., who proposed the cut to $1.4 billion, said if the House goes along with the rest of the GOP amendments it will have created a program that would generate $3 billion to fight poverty through additional state, local and private contributions.

The GOP bill would end some programs, put others under different administration and enlarge the role of private industry in job training.

Democratic strategists feel confident they can defeat most, if not all, of the GOP amendments.

The House bill also would require Community Action agencies to be units of a state or local government. Of the 1,050 such agencies now in operation, 80 per cent are private, non-profit organizations.

Supporters of the amendment hope it will end the kind of complaints—aired at a Senate hearing into last summer's riots—that allege a link between civic agitation and antipoverty workers connected with private organizations.

Pleasant Task at Time Unpleasant

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas A&M Coach Bill Calaway had to perform a pleasant task Saturday night at a rather unpleasant time.

The Weevils had just been trounced 60-28 by Eastern New Mexico in a non-conference game but Henderson had upset State College of Arkansas 23-10 and A&M had clinched the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

"They were too beat up and sick-at-heart to be cheered up by anything," Calaway said. "All they knew was that they had given up 60 points."

Arkansas Tech's Dairrel O'Bar produced the game-winning field goal for the second straight week as the Wonder Boys came from 21 points behind to whip Harding 31-28 and moved into a tie for third in the conference.

Ouachita defeated Millsaps 23-7 and Mississippi College blasted Southern State 33-10 in two non-conference games.

Henderson's victory pushed the Reddies into second place with a 3-2 record. The Reddies trailed 10-9 in the third quarter. Tailback Horace Jennings scored on runs of six and three yards in the last half to spark the Reddies' comeback. The big play came later in the third period when punter Buddy Jordan hit a fourth-and-eight pass to Robert Bailey for 11 yards on the SCA 26. Jennings scored from the six to put the Reddies ahead to stay.

Tommy Hart hit Jim Morgan for 86 yards and a touchdown in the first half and Jorgen Gertz added a 35-yard field goal. Mike Loibner kicked a 20-yard field goal for SCA and Gary Hudgins picked off a lateral and returned it 35 yards for the only SCA touchdown.

O'Bar kicked a 24-yard field goal as the Wonder Boys scored 17 points in the final quarter. Tech quarterback Leon Anderson passed for one touchdown and ran for another and Roy Franklin scored twice.

Harding's Kenny Glass scored his twice after scooping up fumbles. He went 66 yards with the first and 77 yards with the second. Charles Jones also scored twice for the Bisons.

Henderson can sew up second place by beating cross-town rival Ouachita Saturday afternoon. Southern State, 2-2-1, can tie Tech and SCA if the Mule-riders can get past A&M Saturday night at Monticello.

State College is at Martin Branch, Tech is at Southeast Missouri and Central Missouri is at Harding in non-conference games.

Indians Are Edged by Arlington

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University's Mike Everett missed a 46-yard field goal in the final minutes as the Indians dropped a 16-14 decision to the University of Texas at Arlington, the sixth-ranked team in the Associated Press small college division.

The loss ruined any Southland Conference title hopes the Indians might have entertained. ASU kicking specialist, sophomore Skipper Butler, scored 10 points on field goals of 27, 36 and 42 yards and one extra point.

Arlington quarterback Mike Baylor put the Rebels in front on a four-yard run. ASU fullback Steve Cankiewicz plunged one-yard to cap a 75-yard drive and tie the game.

Butler's first field goal gave Arlington a 10-7 halftime advantage. He added his other two field goals before Frank McGuigan scored from the one to clinch a 64-yard drive.

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor
Alex H. Washburn
Some Newspaper History Behind Saturday Pix Page

Things happen around a newspaper that the owners don't know about. I opened up Saturday's edition to Page 2 and was shocked to find a page of pictures which I had made back in the late 1930's in the spot usually occupied by the Associated Press' nationally-distributed Picture Show page.

But I guessed the answer. Our shop had come across one of the innumerable boxes of old films around the office — this one was marked "Foley's Spring Hill Pottery"—and reconstructed in modern offset printing an old page feature from The Star's Past.

If you happen to have a file of Hope Stars of about 1938 or 1939 you will probably find this same page as it looked in letterpress. The Star bought its first camera, a pre-anniversary 4x5 Speed Graphic, in the Spring of 1936, and used it to produce the 1936 Arkansas Centennial Edition of June 26, 1936.

We started off with only a camera, our films and photo prints being processed by Shipley Studio. In 1937 we installed our own darkroom, and in 1938 added an enlarger.

The Foley Pottery picture layout was our very first picture page feature. But we were a million miles away from today's newspaper plant. We had no engraving facilities. Our photographs were mailed either to Harper Standard Engraving Co. in Dallas or Peerless Engraving Co. in Little Rock. They were returned to us as zinc engravings to be inserted into the metal pages that went on the Duplex flatbed press. Because of the delay in handling engravings by mail we were always from one to three days late in getting pictures into print. Those old pictures were coarse-screen — 65 lines to the inch — zinc engravings, and late in publication.

Today's operation is almost instantaneous, with fine-screen negatives — 100 lines for black-and-white, 110 lines for color — getting twice the detail of the old-time pictures, all produced in our own plant. In the 1950's we speeded up the picture process with the installation of a Fairchild electronic engraver. This improved the printed image with an 85-line screen, and speeded up everything. Polaroid, too, was a big help. Circulation Manager C.M. (Bud) Rogers, Jr., left McCaskill one day at 1 p.m. and we had his Polaroid pictures engraved and on the street by 3 p.m.

Then came the offset plant, Dec. 29, 1965, the Polaroid and electronic engraving processes have been discarded — and today's picture printing is incredibly superior.

I am obliged to Billy Dan Jones, mechanical superintendent and head pressman, for Saturday's rediscovery of the old Foley Pottery page layout. Old pictures never die, and with new processes and new equipment they are finer than ever.

One note: Thank You to our shop. The local football season is now over, and you have Gene Allen, process cameraman and No. 2 pressman, to thank for this year's photo coverage of the Hope Rebels and their subordinate teams' games. I did that job for many years, now Gene has taken over, using the same camera — my 30-year-old Contax camera with 135mm. telephoto lens. The Star has what I consider a better outfit, a 4x5 Speed Graphic with a 15-inch telephoto, but Gene, like most people, prefers the light, small, 35mm. camera to a 4x5 "dog-house" when running up and down the sidelines.

Lightning Hits Churches

THACA, N.Y. (AP) — Lightning struck two churches about 30 miles apart Sunday, causing minor fires at one and burning out electrical fixtures and wiring at the other.

About 300 persons were attending Mass at the Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic Church here when the roof was hit. Firemen put out fires in the roof as the Mass continued.

No one was reported injured. No one was in the Pine Valley Baptist Church when it was struck a few hours later.

Court Refuses a Probe of Stock Mkt.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren registered a vigorous protest today as the Supreme Court refused to look into the way the New York Stock Exchange does its business.

Standing alone and apart from his colleagues, the chief justice said the high court should have examined antitrust questions that were raised in an appeal dismissed by the 7-1 majority without comment.

He said high court review was necessary to see if federal securities law were fulfilling the goal of protecting investors.

Warren noted carefully that he wasn't expressing "any final view" on the merits of a suit challenging the exchange's brokerage commissions system.

But in unusually bitter language, the chief justice scored

Two Persons Killed at Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Two persons were killed and a third was seriously wounded Saturday in a shooting spree at a Texarkana drive-in.

Police said Samuel Richard Surber, 38, of Texarkana, wounded his wife and killed another woman as his six-year-old son and a 14-year-old daughter watched in horror.

Surber then killed himself with a shot in the head, they said.

Miller County Sheriff Leslie Greer said witnesses told him Mrs. Surber, Mrs. Louis McClure and the six-year-old were seated in a car at the drive-in when Surber fired a volley of shots into the front seat.

Mrs. McClure, struck once in the head, died instantly. Mrs. Surber was hit twice in the head. She remained in serious condition after surgery at a Texarkana hospital.

Weak Cold Front Hits Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A very weak cold front chilled Northwest Arkansas this morning, but temperatures over the rest of the state remained well above freezing.

Overnight lows ranged from 29 at Gilbert (Searcy County) to 49 at Texarkana.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said a low pressure center moving toward Arkansas out of Kansas was expected to keep the state cool, cloudy and dry during the next day or two.

It said there was no better than a 10 per cent probability of rain, and that if any fell, it would be in only light, isolated showers tonight.

High temperatures Sunday reached 80 degrees at Fort Smith, but generally were in the 70s over the state.

No rainfall was reported during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

Released Prisoners in Lebanon

By GERALD MILLER
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — Three U.S. Army sergeants released from Communist captivity in Vietnam passed through Rome today on a jetliner taking them home to the United States.

The Americans remained on the Pan American jet for the 45-minute stop at the Rome airport.

The men had spent the night in Beirut, where one of them in an interview with a local newspaper repudiated antiwar statements he had made in Hanoi. Another of the trio stood behind his remarks.

The three men—James E. Jackson of Talcott, W.Va., Daniel Lee Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C., and Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif. — were put aboard a Pan American airliner due in Washington at 10:30 p.m. EST after stops in Rome, Paris and New York.

The men were flown to Beirut Sunday from Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, aboard a Czechoslovak airliner after a ceremony Saturday at which they were turned over to Thomas Hayden, representing an American peace committee.

Hayden was traveling with them to the United States, Pan American said.

Guns Hold Off Charging Cong Troops

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese army regulars charged in force toward U.S. defense lines near Dak To in the central highlands tonight and the Americans fired 105mm Howitzers point blank to hold them off.

First reports of the fighting said some of the U.S. defense lines had been breached and that paratroopers of the American 173rd Airborne Brigade were moving in to consolidate the positions.

AP correspondent John Lengel reported from the battle zone that a major new action was underway after a day of light skirmishes along the highlands battlefield. Earlier U.S. intelligence reports said the North Vietnamese had moved reinforcements in after losing more than 600 men killed in 11 days of battle.

Lengel reported the airborne brigade came under frontal assault after nightfall about six miles southwest of Dak To in what U.S. officials believe is an effort to score an "impact victory" to embarrass South Vietnam's new civilian-based government. But the Communists also may be seeking to keep open an important infiltration route into the South from Laos by knocking out U.S. defenses at the S. forces launched fresh helicopter assaults against the five North Vietnamese regiments believed to be in the area.

The choppers rose to seek out the enemy after U.S. troops encamped in the area weathered 10 hours of incoming Communist rockets and mortar rounds.

"There's every prospect of a truly significant victory," said Lt. Gen. William B. Rossen, the U.S. commander of the 2nd Corps area that encompasses the middle region of South Vietnam.

"The enemy gives every indication of staying. We couldn't ask for anything more opportune."

So far 635 North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed over the last 10 days. U.S. casualties stood at 92 killed and 500 wounded, the U.S. Command said.

In one clash today a U.S. reconnaissance team killed two men in a five-man enemy machine gun squad 3,000 yards from the Dak To airstrip.

The number of American and enemy casualties in today's skirmishing were not available but were said to be light.

The Dak To base camp, however, was bristling with activity.

Man Held in Woman's Abduction

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Johnny Porter, about 26, of Texarkana, was being held here this morning for questioning in the abduction of a Texarkana woman and the wounding of her 10-year-old son.

The Miller County sheriff's office said a man broke into the home of Mrs. Bill Wagner while her husband was working Saturday night, attempted to assault her, shot her son, Billy, and forced Mrs. Wagner to leave her home with him.

They said police stopped the man's car at Prescott about an hour and a half later and freed Mrs. Wagner unharmed.

Deputies said the youngster told them the man entered the Wagner home at gunpoint and later threatened to kill him if he reported the attempted assault on his mother.

The boy said he was going to tell, and "then he pointed the gun at me and 'boom,'"

The boy was wounded in the shoulder.

Deputies said Mrs. Wagner apparently had persuaded her abductor to call an ambulance, and that when attendants arrived at the Wagner home on U.S. 82, they found the boy in bed with his four-year-old brother. He was treated at a hospital here.

Clergyman Blunt With President

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson spent a whirlwind weekend defending his Vietnam policies, then listened in church as a Virginia clergyman bluntly suggested the chief executive should publicly explain America's role in the war.

This challenge was put directly to Johnson by the Rev. Dr. Cotesworth Pinckney Lewis during Sunday services at historic Bruton Parish church in Williamsburg, Va.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

PIERCING PROBLEM

Dear Helen: This may sound juvenile, but, believe me, it's no laughing matter.

Three weeks ago I had my ears pierced. I knew my husband wasn't fond of the idea, but we never really discussed it.

Ever since then, it's been pure H--- at our house. He gets angrier every day. He does not eat or work. He paces the floor. He almost gets violent. His two objections are: 1. It is immoral, disgusting and very wrong to put holes in your ears; and 2. He maintains this reminds him of his stepmother who he wants to forget.

I say it is a complex and he should overcome it. I have yearned for years to have pierced ears and finally had the nerve to get them. Now he wants me to take out the metal and let them grow back together.

My husband is otherwise a great guy, but should I bow down to him in this?—MRS. W.M.

Dear Mrs. M: If you don't you've got holes in your head! And I don't mean the ones in your ears!—H.

Dear Helen: My daughter's steady boyfriend flirts with other girls. Both are 15 and have been dating steadily for over a year. He says kidding around doesn't hurt and wants her to know other boys too, as the two don't have classes or lunch hour together. She is shocked and refuses.

I think he is trying to two-time her, and they should break up. Think of her pride! He swears he would never date another girl, but it seems to me he wants his cake and eat it too.

What's a mother to do?—CONCERNED

Dear Concerned: I think you should keep on promoting a break-up for the boy's sake. Otherwise he may wind up with a possessive child bride, and a managing mother-in-law.—H.

YOUR HELPING HAND DEPARTMENT

Dear Helen: A few days ago I received a telephone call telling me my niece has leukemia and the doctors have given her a year or less to live. She is only seven years old, a gallant, courageous little girl.

Her physician said only a miracle can save her. I believe a miracle can happen if enough people wish and pray hard enough for it. Her life is in God's hands, and God listens.

Won't your readers send cheerful cards to Debra Yeager, R.D. 2, Catawissa, Pennsylvania, 17820—and let her folks know their prayers are with her?—MRS. J.D.R.

Dear Readers: I've received permission from Debra's mother Mrs. Albert Yeager, to tell of her little girl's fight for life. May your cards and prayers make this year easier for all the family.—H.

Dear Helen: We can't begin to thank your marvelous readers for the cheerful cards and letters to our brother, Lawrence Sushko. He's home now on crutches. It's been a heartwarming experience, finding out how many wonderful people there in the world. Thanks to each and every one.—SAL

Dear Helen: Thanks so very much to IHU readers who helped make Andy Seal's long stay in the hospital much shorter. The hundreds of letters and cards kept him busy and made him happy.—ANDY'S MOTHER

General Is Against Any Bombing Pause

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland and the Joint Chiefs of Staff can be expected to stand fast against any new proposal for an extended pause in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

The perennial bombing pause question is on the list of matters to be reviewed at this week's high-level conferences.

Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, is due here Wednesday to join Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, in discussions with President Johnson and top officials of the Defense and State departments. Johnson meets with Bunker today.

Pentagon sources said there are no urgent issues at this time — nothing in the way of new troop increase requests or logistic or operational problems. The conferences were billed as a general review.

The meetings come at a time when the Johnson administration appears to be stressing the theme of "steady progress" in the Vietnam war.

Bunker used this phrase on his arrival Friday from Saigon. High U.S. military officials followed up with a similar line Saturday in talking to newsmen, although they did predict hard fighting in certain critical areas.

In other war-related developments: Retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin said his recent trip to Vietnam convinced him the administration plans to keep forces in Southeast Asia for a long time.

Gavin, a persistent war policy critic, said the government pictures its purpose in Vietnam as resisting current aggression while in fact its policy is the long-term containment of Red China.

— California Gov. Ronald Reagan attacked Johnson's war policies, called for a clear policy decision on "whether we want to carry the war through to a conclusion, or give up" and said stopping U.S. bombing of the North "will only encourage the enemy to do his worst."

The Republican governor, speaking Saturday night in Albany, Ore., said U.S. war policy in Vietnam from the start "was a case of being too late with too little, while tipping our hand to the enemy so that he always knew in advance what we proposed."

— Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said in a Chicago speech, "The '68 elections will be a vote on Vietnam. It is clear the question will not be settled is growing for his position.

The bombing pause question was pushed to the forefront again over the weekend when President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam announced his country's forces would observe a 24-hour cease-fire over Christmas, and possibly the New Year and the lunar new year as well.

in the Senate or in Congress, we must take it back to the jury."

McCarthy said he hoped other senators who oppose administration war policies will enter presidential primaries next year. He said he won't announce until about Dec. 15 if he plans to oppose Johnson for the Democratic nomination.

— Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., predicted Johnson may ask Congress next year for a pre-election vote of confidence in his Vietnam policies.

— Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he believes the American public is wearying of the war. Fulbright, one of the Senate's most outspoken war policy critics, said he feels publicly

Mr. Johnson Must Have Been Baffled

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was President Johnson who must have felt baffled.

But he was in the wrong place to do anything about it, sitting in the very pew George Washington used in an Episcopal church in Williamsburg, Va. He could not very well get up and walk out. And he couldn't very well answer back.

All he could do was sit and listen. But when it was over he left at once without a smile.

He had just finished a 5,100-mile Veterans Day weekend trip, stopping at military camps from coast to coast, appealing to North Vietnam to talk peace and hitting at the critics of the war and the way he is handling it.

He is probably more sensitive to criticism than any president. With growing intensity he and his administration have been striking at the critics. This trip, most of it spent congratulating servicemen on their valor, was a platform.

"Vietnam is no academic question," he said at Ft. Benning, Ga. "It is not a topic for cocktail parties, office arguments, or debate from the comfort of distant sidelines."

It probably never occurred to him that at the very end of his journey he would be hit with criticism in a church while he was sitting there and by a clergyman who apparently either hadn't kept up with what Johnson had said, or had ignored it.

The President finished his trip Saturday night at Williamsburg and Sunday morning took his family to the Bruton Parish Episcopal Church where the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Cotesworth Pinckney Lewis, was ready and waiting.

A parish spokesman explained later that while Dr. Lewis had prepared one sermon for Sunday's services, he put another one together when he heard Johnson would be present.

Since Johnson has been accused by his critics of not leveling with the American people on the war in Vietnam, of creating a "credibility gap," it is easy to imagine his reaction when the minister got started.

Dr. Lewis said, "There is a rather general consensus that something is wrong in Vietnam . . . (and) we wonder if some logical, straightforward explanation might be given without endangering whatever military or political advantages we hold."

"We cannot close our Christian consciences to consideration of the rightness of actions as they are reported to us, perhaps erroneously, perhaps for good cause of which we have not been apprised."

He cautioned against oversimplifying things by viewing the war as directed at non-little communism. He said the complexities of the American involvement in the war are "baffling."

But this is what must have baffled Johnson in turn.

On June 29 Johnson made a speech — which he probably thought was logical — explaining the basic reason why the United States was involved in the war and that reason was communism.

If the clergyman had read that speech, then his statement — warning against oversimplifying things — by viewing the war as directed at communism — can be interpreted as a rejection of Johnson's explanation.

If Dr. Lewis hadn't read the Johnson speech — the most detailed in a long time — then he undertook to be critical without taking the trouble to be informed.
